

Generally Accepted Hunter Jumper Attire

DISCLAIMER

This guide was created by the United States Hunter Jumper Association, Inc. (USHJA) as an educational and informational resource. By creating this guide, neither USHJA, its officers, board members, committee members or staff nor any person or entity involved with the design or production of this guide is offering professional services or advice. Although USHJA strives to keep information accurate and current, it makes no warranties or guarantees as to its accuracy and currency. USHJA is not liable for any damages, claims, or actions incurred or undertaken as a direct or indirect result of using the information contained in this guide. Furthermore, enclosed information does not imply endorsement of any brand, person, horse or location.

United States Hunter Jumper Association
3870 Cigar Lane Lexington, KY 40511
Phone: 859.225.6700
Fax: 859.258.9033
www.ushja.org

Photo Credit: Tricia Booker

“© 2010 United States Hunter Jumper Association, Inc. All rights reserved. Reproduction in part or in full without permission is prohibited by law. USHJA is not responsible for any errors or omissions in the publication or for the use of its copyrighted materials in any unauthorized manner.”

Produced by the United States Hunter Jumper Association, Inc.
for the American Saddlebred Association, Inc.

UNITED STATES
HUNTER JUMPER ASSOCIATION™

Photo Credit: FlashPoint Photography

HUNTERS

Classic hunter attire, equipment and fence.

Rooted in tradition, Hunter attire consists of light colored breeches that are slightly fitted through the hips, a dark color hunt coat or Shadbelly, tall, black field boots and an approved riding helmet.

JUMPERS

Typical jumper attire, equipment and fence.

Jumper attire consists of white or light colored breeches that are slightly fitted through the hips, a dark color hunt coat, tall, black, field boots and an approved riding helmet. For lower level Jumper classes, polo shirts are acceptable, in lieu of a hunt coat.

Photo Credit: Julie Moses

HUNT COAT

Hunt coats are generally dark such as black, gray or navy and have a moderately tailored fit, which rests slightly below the hip.

Photo Credit: Tricia Booker

SHADBELLY

A Shadbelly is a formal hunt coat that is fitted and short waisted in the front, with tails in the back, used for formal classes, such as Hunter classics and Handy Hunter classes.

Photo Credit: Tricia Booker

Photo Credit: Whitney Allen

Photo Credit: Sarah Hope

RIDING SHIRTS

Generally white, but can be light colors as well, such as lavender, blue and green. If formal attire is required, such as in a Hunter Classic, it is customary to wear a white shirt with stock tie as illustrated on the right.

BREECHES

Breeches are light in color, such as tan or buff. White is usually worn only for Jumper classes and special Hunter classes.

Photo Credit: FlashPoint Photography

Photo Credit: Julie Moses

TALL BOOTS

Tall boots are black and form fitting to the leg. Generally, field boots, with laces at the ankle, are worn by juniors and adults in Hunter/Jumper classes over fences and under saddle.

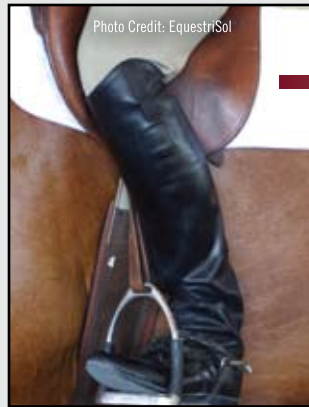

Photo Credit: EquestriSol

JODHPUR BOOTS & GARTERS

Jodhpurs & Garters are worn by children not yet wearing tall boots.

Photo Credit: Whitney Allen

HELMET & HAIR

Riders are required to wear ASTM/SEI helmets. It is preferred for rider's hair to be neatly tucked under the helmet and secured with a hairnet, as seen above.

Photo Credit: Whitney Allen

HORSE BRAIDS

Hunter braids are tight and evenly spaced. They are typically bound with yarn that matches the color of the horse's mane or can be sewn. Tail braids are usually French braids, with the end sewn into the braid or sewn into a pinwheel. Jumpers are not required to be braided.

Photo Credit: Tricia Booker

SAMPLES OF HUNTER/JUMPER BITS

Typically, Dee Snaffles, Full Cheek Snaffles and Pelham bits are used.

Photo Credit: FlashPoint Photography

HUNTER/JUMPER TYPE SADDLE

Leather, typically brown/tan in color, with matching leather stirrup leathers and chrome stirrups.

Photo Credit: FlashPoint Photography